We're live

Well, we're live with the new site. I was just sick of the other one, so I finally moved it over after my nice hosting provider got me SSH access, making the process of moving all the b2evolution files to a new location so much easier than it would have been had I had to FTP the files down and then back up again.

Nice stuff... the individual entry display is a little wonky for me in firefox though...

That's odd, because now I've downloaded Firefox, and it looks fine to me.

I'm supposedly XHTML and CSS valid, so I'm not sure what the issue is.
