School's out

Today was my final day at school. I feel ambivalent, as usual. I'm happy to be starting law school at Cardozo in the fall, but I'm sad to be leaving behind these people who I've gotten to know well over the past two years. I'm still in the city, of course, and I'll stay in contact, but it won't be the same as seeing them every day. There were a lot of good times, and my biggest sense of dread comes from the idea that this'll end up being the best work experience I ever have, and I've just voluntarily ended it to try to grab the brass ring.
